INVESTMENT YEAR: 2020

SECTOR: Technology

IT & communications provider

Welltel was founded in 2007 by CEO Ross Murray and Executive Chairman John Quinn. The company has since established itself as the largest, fastest-growing independent enterprise communications provider in Ireland, providing c.3,500 customers with market leading expertise in unified communications, contact centres, secure connectivity, managed IT services, remote working, and phone systems.

We identified Welltel as a sector leader poised to benefit from the increasing momentum in the communications and IT services market. Our investment will accelerate Welltel's ambitious growth plans by supporting its M&A programme and its organic expansion, and we will significantly invest in Welltel's infrastructure to allow for the business to scale at pace.

Livingbridge has a longstanding reputation for helping businesses achieve their potential, and I am confident that their extensive knowledge of the technology and communications sector will help us to continue to deliver for our customers.
