Dutch dental group

Fresh Tandartsen is a leading Dutch dental group, focused on a high-quality and patient centric-approach.

Founded in 2014 by Koen Clement and Tako-Jan Holwerda, Fresh has grown from having one practice to running twenty-three clinics and three labs across the Netherlands.

Fresh focuses on quality, integrity and a patient-centric approach rather than a retail model, with centralised labs supplying dental products to its clinics and external parties. With a strong track record of acquisitive growth, Fresh prioritises a culture of loyalty with all of its stakeholders, retaining local branding to ensure continuity and trusting dentists to manage their patient bases.

Livingbridge's investment will be used to support Fresh's growth plans with further M&A and international acquisitions strategies both in the Netherlands and adjacent territories, whilst retaining the high quality of service levels for which Fresh are renowned.

We are thrilled that Livingbridge has decided to invest and that they recognise our vision for the future and ambition to become the leading Dutch dental group. With Livingbridge's support we will look to increase our M&A activity in a fragmented market, accelerating our long-term growth. We can't wait to start working with them and believe this is a real turning point in our five-year history.
