INVESTMENT YEAR: 2018

SECTOR: Services

Leading management consultancy

Vendigital provides technology-led transformation programmes for blue-chip, enterprise clients looking to identify and solve complex cost problems and deliver results to clients' bottom lines. Vendigital has deep expertise across a number of sectors including aerospace & defence, automotive, transportation, media & entertainment, retail and industrial products. Through its in-house Data Science lab, the company also provides bespoke solutions, streamlining the way in which clients collect, analyse, and prioritise data, to produce actionable insights

Global dynamics such as increasing M&A activity and accelerating digital disruption have put tremendous pressure on cost, efficiency and operating models. Our investment will be used by Vendigital to take advantage of this rapidly-growing market both organically and through acquisitions to further develop its international presence.

Building the best
